Grant readiness checklist

What startups need in place before a round opens

01

Have the business registered

Many programs need an ABN and a registered entity. Sort this out well before a deadline, not during the application.

02

Keep your financials current

Assessors ask for recent accounts or statements. Up-to-date records make applications faster when a round opens.

03

Write down the project in one page

Cover the problem, the activities, the timeline and the expected outcome. Every application can draw on it.

04

Collect quotes and evidence early

Quotes for larger costs, letters of support and proof of your own contribution take time to gather.

05

Check the guidelines first

Read eligibility and assessment criteria before you write a word. Programs differ, so confirm what applies to yours.

Pass it on

Share it with a founder preparing for their first grant round.
